ITALY IS READY TO JOIN ALLIES

Army and Navy Preparing for Active Service.

TEUTONIC RESIDENTS FLEE

Departure of German and Austrian Families Is Reported From All Parts of Italy—Germany Using Utmost Endeavors to Bring About an Accord Between Vienna and Rome.

London, March 26.—A Rome dispatch, dated March 24, received by the Central News, says:

"Everything is in readiness for a general mobilization of the Italian army. Seven complete classes already are under the colors.

"The departure of Austrian and German families is reported from all parts of Italy; it is estimated that about 3,000 persons of these nationalities have left Rome.

"Trains from Milan and Venice to the frontier are filled with Germans and Austrians and large numbers of Hungarians have left Venice by steamer for Trieste."

ITALY READY FOR ACTION

Army and Navy Are in a Position to Strike Quickly.

Rome, March 26.—The statement in the Messaggero, regarded as inspired, that "neutrality or friendly negotiations can accomplish nothing" in the present European situation, taken in conjunction with the increased military preparations, is accepted generally as presumptive evidence that Italy is approaching a moment when she is determined to pass from negotiations to action.

Germany is using her utmost endeavors to bring about an accord between Vienna and Rome, but that Austria would cede her Italian province to Italy and Transylvania to Roumania is held here to be inconceivable.

Officially, nothing has been made known of the policy of the government beyond the reiterated announcement that Italy must be prepared for eventualities. But the military preparations have been on a most extensive scale and, if a blow is to be struck, both army and navy are in a position to strike quickly.

London, March 26.—Herbert C. Hoover, chairman of the American commission for relief in Belgium, who returned to London from Paris, announced that the negotiations for feeding 2,500,000 French civilians who are behind the German lines have been completed.

The arrangements were settled between Mr. Hoover and French delegates from the North, whom the Germans permitted to journey to Paris by way of Switzerland to attend the conference.

For the past two months the commission has been reluctantly extending the distribution of relief farther and farther southward from the Belgian frontier into France and for the past month has been feeding over 500,000 French persons between Maubeuge and Sedan.

Washington, March 26.—Major George T. Langhorne, the army officer recently withdrawn from his post as military attaché of the American embassy at Berlin, has denied authorship of certain dispatches sent from Berlin to the war department signed with his name.

It was said at the department that the major, when he reached Washington a few days ago, found in the department's file of his reports some messages in plain English which he had not sent.

All of his dispatches, the officer asserted, had been filed in cipher. No official information was to be had of the nature of the messages repudiated by the major, though it was understood that they related to the military situation in Germany and were designed to convey misinformation to Germany's enemies.

When transmitted by wireless they were picked up by the Eiffel tower and by some British stations.

LOSSES PROVE STRONG DEFENSE

(By United Press)

Berlin, March 26.—The German government in an official statement says that the Russian losses in the two sieges of Permisl totalled 70,000, these losses being cited to show the desperate defense, put up by the Austrians. The ability to entrench properly finally won the Russian victory, they slowly closing on the defenses but never failing to properly entrench before advancing, and also leaving row after row of strong defenses upon which to fall back if necessary. Irrespective of this Permisl could have stood for months longer if it had not been for the lack of food. The inner forts were undamaged. General Kusmanek surrendered only because the wireless messages brought him the information that immediate relief was impossible.

(By United Press)

Berlin, March 26.—The French have resumed their attempts to drive a wedge into the German lines south from Verdun and cut off the German force at St. Mihiel. Fighting for possession of the hills around Hartmannswiller in Alsace continues, the French infantry being engaged in sporadic attacks, elsewhere nothing of importance is reported.

The Russians who made attacks east of Sugustowo, in the lake region were checked at every point. The German infantry controls the causeways leading through marshes east of Sugustowo and every German onslaught breaks down under murderous fire.

A report from Commander Smith says that F4 left the tender for a submerged run at 9 o'clock on the morning of the 25th but failed to return. At the surface of the entrance of the harbor the water is covered with fuel oil, and diving and dragging is being carried on, the water being 30 fathoms deep. Secretary Daniels held an immediate conference with Admiral Taylor of the bureau of construction, Admiral Taylor stating that the appearance of the oil on the surface was a bad indication, and was probably caused by the submarine releasing the oil seeking to become lighter. The submarine is equipped with side hooks, and if possible to reach the craft it might be lifted with grappling hooks.

Honolulu, March 26.—It is reported that the F-4 has been located, lying at a depth of 120 fathoms. Attempts to bring the vessel to the surface with grappling hooks failed. No signal bells had been heard from the submerged craft and this fact led to fears that the submarine's tanks had burst, suffocating the crew with sulphuric acid fumes.

Honolulu, March 26.—The American submarine F-4, which was submerged two miles off Honolulu harbor, has not reappeared and grave fears were expressed for its safety.

The F-4 carries a crew of twenty-five men and is commanded by Lieutenant Alfred L. Ede.

Three other submarines of the "F" class stationed here, the naval tug Navajo and the launches scoured the ocean for miles about the harbor entrance in search of the missing vessel.

Naval officials said they were hopeful that no serious mishap had befallen the F-4, but they admitted the circumstances of the craft's prolonged disappearance gave rise to much apprehension.

The president appealed to the nation for support in administering his office, saying "If I can speak for you I am powerful; if I cannot I am weak." He said it was possible for a people to be impartial "when a quarrel is none of theirs." Referring to the danger to missionaries in some foreign lands, of which he said he had thought much of late, he added:

"Wars will never have any ending until men cease to hate one another, cease to be jealous of one another, get the feeling of reality in the brotherhood of mankind, which is the only bond that can make us think justly of one another and act righteously before God himself."

Bishop Warren A. Candler of Atlanta, in introducing the president, declared the members of the conference were behind him as patriots. Secretary Daniels occupied a seat on the speakers' platform during the session.

Smith, founder and pastor of the People's church of St. Paul since its organization in 1888, former president of the National Conference of Churches and Correction and of the American prison congress and a national character in charitable and correctional work, died at his apartments in the Aberdeen hotel.

Dr. Smith's death came with startling suddenness, although his condition had been critical since Sunday. He had been a sufferer from Bright's disease for several months and was stricken Sunday night, just as he was preparing to leave his apartments for the evening service at his church.

Dr. Smith was a native of Birmingham, England, born there March 7, 1852. His father was a Methodist minister of the rigid English type, as were many of his ancestry. While a child his parents came to America, his father taking a missionary post in what was then a frontier county in Iowa.

DUTCH STEAMER IS SUNK

German Submarine Gives Crew Brief Time to Leave.

Dover, March 26.—The Dutch steamer Medea was sunk off Beachy Head by the German submarine U-28. She carried a cargo of oranges and was bound from Saloniki for London.

The Medea was stopped by the submarine and the crew were given fifteen minutes to leave the vessel. They did so and the submarine then fired several shots at the steamer, which remained afloat for an hour. The crew was rescued.

The trawler Alprecht was attacked by a submarine, but escaped. A British patrol boat chased the submarine in vain.

PROGRESS IN CARPATHIANS

Russians Report Further Victories Over Austrians.

Petrograd, March 26.—The following communication was issued: "On the front toward the west of the middle Niemen we continued to make progress."

"On the right bank of the Narew and the left bank of the Vistula there has been no change of importance."

"In the Carpathians our offensive on the front in the direction between Bartfeld and Uzsook is developing with complete success. Our troops, operating under extremely difficult conditions, gained a most decisive success in the region of the Luppoff (Lupkow) pass, where we carried by assault a very important Austrian position on the great crest of the Beskid mountains."

ELIHU ROOT. Former Senator Says New York Laws Are Archaic.

LAWS OF NEW YORK ARCHAIC

Former Senator Root Addresses Merchants' Association.

New York, March 26.—The business of government in this state and in most states has outgrown the machinery of government, said former Senator Elihu Root in an address at a luncheon given by the Merchants' association.

Mr. Root spoke on the coming New York constitutional convention, over which he is to preside, and its relations to business.

"We are running a railroad with a stage coach organization," he continued. "Laws must be regulated so that the responsibility for errors and the praise for good work can pointedly be fixed."

"The governor of this state is being criticized for not doing those things that our system withholds from him the power to do and that will be so until we improve the system."

WILSON SEES SAFETY IN CALM AMERICA

Tells Methodists He Has Confidence in People.

Washington, March 26.—Full confidence in the great body of calm people of the nation who served as "stabilizers" when the excited ones try to "rock the boat" in these perilous days, was voiced by President Wilson, in an address before the Baltimore conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, South, in annual session here.

The president appealed to the nation for support in administering his office, saying "If I can speak for you I am powerful; if I cannot I am weak." He said it was possible for a people to be impartial "when a quarrel is none of theirs." Referring to the danger to missionaries in some foreign lands, of which he said he had thought much of late, he added:

"We will never have any ending until men cease to hate one another, cease to be jealous of one another, get the feeling of reality in the brotherhood of mankind, which is the only bond that can make us think justly of one another and act righteously before God himself."

Bishop Warren A. Candler of Atlanta, in introducing the president, declared the members of the conference were behind him as patriots. Secretary Daniels occupied a seat on the speakers' platform during the session.

COLONEL IS SENT TO PRISON

Former French Paymaster and German Woman Convicted.

Paris, March 26.—Colonel Francois Desclaux, former paymaster general in the French army, charged with stealing military stores, was convicted and sentenced to seven years' solitary confinement and military degradation.

His name was ordered removed from the list of the Legion of Honor.

Mme. Bechoff, the wife of a German, in whose house the stolen goods were found, also was declared guilty by the courtmartial and sentenced to two years' imprisonment.

A soldier named Verges, who was accused of aiding in the thefts, was given a one-year sentence.

All the other defendants were declared not guilty.

OFFICIALS NOW HAVE ALL FACTS

Will Ask Germany to Pay for Sinking of Frye.

NO CONTRABAND IN CARGO

United States Government Intends Sending Note to Berlin Demanding Full Reparation for Loss of Vessel and Cargo and an Expression of Regret for the Occurrence.

Washington, March 26.—Having now received all the facts concerning the ownership and sale of the cargo of the William P. Frye, the American ship which was sunk by the converted cruiser Prinz Eitel Friedrich, the United States government will send to Germany in a few days a note asking for reparation for the loss of the vessel and cargo and an expression of regret for the occurrence.

The German government has not given the state department any information as yet as to the course it will pursue.

The German ambassador here, however, has expressed the opinion unofficially that the case will be disposed of amicably and without difficulty.

It was definitely established, the report said, that the cargo of wheat was consigned "to order," and that no evidence existed in the papers of the ship to prove that the foodstuffs were destined to any belligerent forces.

BELIEVE SUBMARINE SUNK

British Naval Officials Claim German Boat Is Lost.

London, March 26.—The belief the German submarine U-29 has been sunk with all hands was expressed in an official statement issued by the British admiralty. The text of the statement is:

"The admiralty have good reasons to believe that the German submarine U-29 has been sunk with all hands." The U-29 displaced 800 tons and was one of the largest and fastest of the German undersea boats.

Two weeks ago the U-29 made a record raid on the Scilly islands and in the channel, sinking four British steamers and one French steamer and damaging three other vessels.

STIRRED BY PERSIAN PERIL

Bryan Asks Diplomats for Word Concerning Menace.

Washington, March 26.—Continued reports of menace to lives of American missionaries and refugees at Tirmah, Persia, have aroused the activity of the state department.

Although only one official communication on the subject has been received Secretary Bryan said diplomatic and consular officers in Persia, Turkey and Russia have been apprised of the reported circumstances and appealed to for any available information.

Nothing was heard by the department on the subject from Ambassador Morgenthau at Constantinople.

KAISER AGAIN A GRANDPA

Second Son Is Born to Duchess of Brunswick.

London, March 26.—The Duchess of Brunswick, formerly Princess Victoria Luise, daughter of Emperor William, gave birth to a son, according to a dispatch from Brunswick received by Reuter's Telegram company by way of Amsterdam.

The marriage of Prince Ernest August of Cumberland and Princess Victoria Luise took place at Berlin on May 24, 1913. Their first son was born March 18 of last year.

SLAYS WIFE AT THE TABLE

Utah Man Walks Into Hotel Dining Room and Shoots Mate.

Helper, Utah, March 26.—Baptist Ravizza walked into the dining room of a hotel, where his wife was employed as a waitress, and shot her to death as she was setting a table.

Jealousy is supposed to have been the cause of the shooting. Ravizza was arrested.

BRITISH STEAMER RAIDED

United States Customs Officials Seize $1,200 Worth of Opium.

Boston, March 26.—Customs guards raided the British steamer Jingun just after it arrived from Loughburg, C. B., and seized $1,200 worth of opium.

The officers charge that the opium was being smuggled for sale at this port by Chinese members of the Lingnan crew.

ARBOR DAY PROCLAMATION

South Dakota Governor Sets Aside
Friday, April 23.

Pierre, S. D., March 26.—Governor
Byrne has issued the following Arbor
day proclamation:

"For the purpose of assisting our
people to better realize the economic,
climatic and aesthetic value to the state of all plant life, and with the view of promoting a more lively interest in the extension of arbor culture and in the conservation of our
trees and shrubs and flowers, I, Frank
M. Byrne, governor, do hereby name
and set aside Friday, April 23, 1915, as Arbor day, and earnestly urge that all
our citizens make this day an opportunity for a concerted effort toward adornment and advancement of South Dakota.

"In the planting of trees each of us should render an immeasurable public service and without question every person should deem it both a pleasure and a privilege to thus lend his individual influence and effort to enhance the native beauty and attractiveness
of our state.

"I especially recommend that in all
our public schools carefully studied programs be followed to bring out the
real meaning of the day and exercises
held of a nature to inculcate in our children an interest in and regard for
the beautiful in their surroundings
and further advise that these be followed by the actual planting of
shrubs, vines and trees."

Crown Prince Collapses.

Geneva, March 26.—Italian travelers who have recently arrived at Lausanne from Berlin say the German crown prince is suffering from a nervous breakdown, in a private nursing home near Potsdam, and that the crown prince is helping to nurse
him. This might explain the long
silence concerning the whereabouts
of the crown prince. According to the same authority, his illness is not considered serious.

A Doubtful Compliment.

"I can't just make out what he
meant," said the conceited man.
"What do you mean?"
"Whether he was praising me or
not."
"What did he say?"
"He was agreeing with something I
had just said, and he added, 'Nobody
in this city knows as much as you
think you know.'—Detroit Free Press.

South Dakota Governor Sets Aside
Friday, April 23.

Pierre, S. D., March 26.—Governor
Byrne has issued the following Arbor
day proclamation:

"For the purpose of assisting our
people to better realize the economic,
climatic and aesthetic value to the
state of all plant life, and with the view of promoting a more lively interest in the extension of arbor culture and in the conservation of our
trees and shrubs and flowers, I, Frank
M. Byrne, governor, do hereby name
and set aside Friday, April 23, 1915, as Arbor day, and earnestly urge that all
our citizens make this day an opportunity for a concerted effort toward
adornment and advancement of South Dakota.

"In the planting of trees each of us
should render an immeasurable public service and without question every
person should deem it both a pleasure and a privilege to thus lend his individual influence and effort to enhance the native beauty and attractiveness
of our state.

"I especially recommend that in all
our public schools carefully studied
programs be followed to bring out the
real meaning of the day and exercises
held of a nature to inculcate in our children an interest in and regard for
the beautiful in their surroundings
and further advise that these be followed by the actual planting of
shrubs, vines and trees."

Crown Prince Collapses.

Geneva, March 26.—Italian travelers who have recently arrived at Lausanne from Berlin say the German crown prince is suffering from a nervous breakdown, in a private nursing home near Potsdam, and that the crown princess is helping to nurse
him. This might explain the long
silence concerning the whereabouts
of the crown prince. According to
the same authority, his illness is not considered serious.

A Doubtful Compliment.

"I can't just make out what he
meant," said the conceited man.
"What do you mean?"
"Whether he was praising me or
not."

"He was agreeing with something I had just said, and he added, 'Nobody
in this city knows as much as you
think you know.'"—Detroit Free Press.

HAS PROSPEROUS YEAR

American Sunday School Union Has Established 63 Preaching Stations, Over 700 Rural Schools

Following close on the trail of the new settlers throughout the Northwest will be found the missionary of the American Sunday School Union. Time was when the circuit rider was the advance herald of the church. Today instead of seeing the preacher on horseback with his Bible in his pocket, one finds a well equipped rig, full of Bibles, books, literature, song-books, etc., in charge of a missionary representing all the churches, being directed by this nation-wide Sunday school missionary society. The entire northwest is now distracted so that a local missionary will have charge of from 5 to 9 counties, over which he must travel to organize Sunday schools, preach in the new settlements, and school houses of the older districts. Minnesota, North Dakota and Montana is under the charge of Rev. John O. Ferris, of Minneapolis, with a competent force of men in each state. Rev. W. J. Smith is in charge of this section or division with headquarters in Brainerd. Mr. Ferris reports that during the past fiscal year these "religious pioneers" have opened 236 Sunday schools where 7,348 pupils enrolled for weekly systematic study of God's word. 1,578 visits were paid to the schools in operation for counsel and inspiration. 2,656 public addresses and sermons were delivered to people who seldom hear a message except as some missionary gives it to them. 2,066 Bibles and Testaments were distributed, $2,000 worth of Sunday school literature sold, and much given away. These church forerunners made 17,512 visits to homes for religious conversation and prayer, and as a crowning glory to it all, more than 650 persons confessed Christ as their Lord and Master. To make these schools more permanent 63 because regular preaching stations for pastors of various denomination, Christian Endeavor societies have been organized, prayer meetings established, and 3 churches built. For the present year the band of missionaries will be increased to meet the ever increasing calls for Sunday school and rural religious service.

Words To The Wise

[No. 5]

Lots of people who are talking dry live wet. If you do not believe it ask the iceman.

Any man who tries to prevent others from doing the thing that he himself does is a hypocrite.

Regulation sustains the same relation to the liquor business that the banks of the river do to the stream. The banks permit and control the flow. Prohibition is a dam built across the stream on the idiotic theory that it will stop the water from coming down. It puts an end to control and forces an overflow.

On March 16th the dries print an ad in which they say that "statistics show that one percent of the people secure their living from the liquor business."

What statistics? This is a favorite trick to cover speculation. United States statistical abstracts show that 1,235,000 are on the payroll of the liquor interest and allied trades. Most of them have large families. More than 5,000,000 secure their living from the liquor business.

It is infinitely more sane to support a plan that gives the city power to control the liquor traffic than to support a proposition which permits lawless liquor to control the city.

The prohibition campaign is being directed by men but the women and children have been placed in the fore front of the fray—not a very chivalrous thing to do.

Little Miss Muffett she sat on a tuffet—

And wept that the town had gone dry;

And along came a boot-legger disguised as a beggar,

And sold her a nip on the sly.

When a man governs himself, that is liberty—that is temperance. But when he governs another man that is prohibition—that is despotism.

Vote this city dry and men who are seldom away from home at night will be absent for days at a time. Wives should not overlook this fact.

Before you decide to vote your city dry make some prohibitionists give you the name of one dry town that ever became a great city.

A dry city gets the liquor her people want and loses the revenue, rents and wages. A wet city has the liquor its people want and receives the revenue, rent and wages incident to the legitimate business. Which will you have?

American Sunday School Union Has Established 63 Preaching Stations, Over 700 Rural Schools

Following close on the trail of the new settlers throughout the Northwest will be found the missionary of the American Sunday School Union. Time was when the circuit rider was the advance herald of the church. Today instead of seeing the preacher on horseback with his Bible in his pocket, one finds a well equipped rig, full of Bibles, books, literature, song-books, etc., in charge of a missionary representing all the churches, being directed by this nation-wide Sunday school missionary society.

The entire northwest is now distracted so that a local missionary will have charge of from 5 to 9 counties, over which he must travel to organize Sunday schools, preach in the new settlements, and school houses of the older districts. Minnesota, North Dakota and Montana is under the charge of Rev. John O. Ferris, of Minneapolis, with a competent force of men in each state. Rev. W. J. Smith is in charge of this section or division with headquarters in Brainerd. Mr. Ferris reports that during the past fiscal year these "religious pioneers" have opened 236 Sunday schools where 7,348 pupils enrolled for weekly systematic study of God's word. 1,578 visits were paid to the schools in operation for counsel and inspiration. 2,656 public addresses and sermons were delivered to people who seldom hear a message except as some missionary gives it to them. 2,066 Bibles and Testaments were distributed, $2,000 worth of Sunday school literature sold, and much given away. These church forerunners made 17,512 visits to homes for religious conversation and prayer, and as a crowning glory to it all, more than 650 persons confessed Christ as their Lord and Master. To make these schools more permanent 63 regular preaching stations for pastors of various denomination, Christian Endeavor societies have been organized, prayer meetings established, and 3 churches built. For the present year the band of missionaries will be increased to meet the ever increasing calls for Sunday school and rural religious service.

Words To The Wise

[No. 5]

Lots of people who are talking dry live wet. If you do not believe it ask the iceman.

Any man who tries to prevent others from doing the thing that he himself does is a hypocrite.

Regulation sustains the same relation to the liquor business that the banks of the river do to the stream. The banks permit and control the flow. Prohibition is a dam built across the stream on the idiotic theory that it will stop the water from coming down. It puts an end to control and forces an overflow.

On March 16th the dries print an ad in which they say that "statistics show that one percent of the people secure their living from the liquor business."

What statistics? This is a favorite trick to cover speculation. United States statistical abstracts show that 1,235,000 are on the payroll of the liquor interest and allied trades. Most of them have large families. More than 5,000,000 secure their living from the liquor business.

It is infinitely more sane to support a plan that gives the city power to control the liquor traffic than to support a proposition which permits lawless liquor to control the city.

The prohibition campaign is being directed by men but the women and children have been placed in the fore front of the fray—not a very chivalrous thing to do.

Little Miss Muffett she sat on a tuffet—

And wept that the town had gone dry;

And along came a boot-legger disguised as a beggar,

And sold her a nip on the sly.

When a man governs himself, that is liberty—that is temperance. But when he governs another man that is prohibition—that is despotism.

Vote this city dry and men who are seldom away from home at night will be absent for days at a time. Wives should not overlook this fact.

Before you decide to vote your city dry make some prohibitionists give you the name of one dry town that ever became a great city.

A dry city gets the liquor her people want and loses the revenue, rents and wages. A wet city has the liquor its people want and receives the revenue, rent and wages incident to the legitimate business. Which will you have?

THE NEW CHARTER

Edited by the members of the Charter Commission favorable to new charter.

OUR PREAMBLE

"No form of government can in and of itself produce good results. The most that any plan can do is to provide an organization which LENDS itself to EFFICIENT action, and which at the same time places in the hands of the electorate some simple and effective means for controlling their government in their own interests. Beyond that results can only be obtained thru an enlightened public opinion."

THE OLD VERSUS THE NEW

Do you realize that your old charter is like a worn out kettle. It is full of leaks and weak spots. Do you realize that working under the old charter is like working with the arms and legs tied? Ask those who have served.

Would you not sooner prefer a progressive charter? One under which your city can grow easily and develop comfortably. The recall, initiative and referendum would be nice things to have. A civil service commission is a necessity. Preferential voting (1st, 2nd, 3rd choice) is all the rage now; non-partisan elections are very popular; work on the council is made easy because committee work is eliminated. Proper means have been provided for the enforcement of health laws, and a sanitary city will no longer be a vision but a reality.

The water and light board is eliminated and its work will be attended to by the city manager and city clerk.

You will enjoy serving the city officially under the new charter and not scorn the call to serve as you do now.

Manager Plan Leads to Scientific Management

Haphazard management fails everywhere in every line, in the long run if not immediately. Inefficiency in the department of any city can be wiped out, costly mistakes avoided, slovenly management remedied and, above all politicians eliminated by the application of scientific management. And by scientific management is merely meant that a definite working policy is to be applied wherein human efforts are put forth. This can only be done where a single administrative head exists. We have such in our school systems and in our large corporations, and some small ones too, but does it not seem absurd that for Brainerd, a corporation handling over $125,000 annually we sit idly by. There are many who continually complain of high taxes, and look here and there to blame it on to the one or other political party, but never go to the root of the trouble—extravagance and waste due to inefficiency and lack of management, and they balk at every turn when the remedy is presented, in the form of a new charter, to overcome the difficulties and the high taxes and leakages.

VOTE "YES" FOR THE CHARTER.

Water and Light Board Eliminated. The new charter eliminates the Water and Light Board as well as all other boards except the library board. This is in keeping with the centralization of power and responsibility and is one of the main features of all progressive municipal charters now being adopted. It gives greater power to a fewer men, but the voters then know who is responsible.

No more appointments to form a partisan water and light board. No more legal proceedings to get a member off the board. Hereafter the manager will have charge of all public utilities, his assistant engineer will do all the outside work pertaining to engineering, the council will be responsible, and the city clerk will collect all the payments due from the commodities sold by the city. Here indeed is a big stride toward perfection, economy and peace.

You can have all this if you will only vote for the new CHARTER.

Civil Service

A new feature is the civil service commission. This commission consists of three citizens appointed by the council. The commission makes its own rules and regulations. This is not a difficult task. Many cities have these commissions and their regulations are available. These rules and regulations must be adopted by the council, and the latter may confer any powers on the commission in order to enable it to carry out its duties more effectively.

The city attorney, city engineer, day laborers and certain special employees are not under civil service. The attorney qualifies by having been admitted to the state bar. For the engineer rigid qualifications are embraced in the charter itself.

The appointments to the commission are for six years. Examinations may be held at any time. Eligibles, when appointed, serve on probation for a while before receiving a permanent appointment. This is a safeguard for obtaining efficient servants.

The present occupants of appointive offices need not take a civil service examination if deemed competent and re-appointed by the mayor, but otherwise all must pass the civil service requirements. How then is a mayor going to build up a political machine. What has politics to do with it. What good are the appointees to him politically if they cannot vote for the mayor, and have nothing to do with his selection.

This is certain, it causes employees to feel secure of their jobs as long as they prove capable of holding them, and it does away with the fear that they will lose their positions with the change of administration. It takes employees realize that promotion is possible and that they will be given the first chance when a higher job becomes vacant, and not be eliminated because of the injection of politics into the routine business of the city.

What It Costs to Run a Jitney Bus

San Francisco, March 26—It costs $9.23 cents a day on an average to run a jitney bus, according to figures today of Pienrepent V. Marshall, principal of the Y. M. C. A. automobile school here. He has it figured down to a nicety. He estimated that the cost of operating for 300 days a year, 12½ hours a day a jitney bus costing not more than $600 when it was new, will be about as follows:

6% interest on ½ of $600
Investment, per year	$ 18.00
Insurance, per year	192.00
Degradation, per year	300.00
Storage, per year	120.00
Drivers wages ($100 per month) per year	1,200.00
Licenses, per year	28.00
Jitney Assn. dues, per year	12.00

Yearly fixed charges	$1,870.00
Average for 300 days per year	$6.23
Oil, gasoline, grease, etc.	1.50
Tires (150 miles at ½ c)	.75
Mechanical upkeep, repairs, etc.	.75

Daily cost.....$9.23
"If you start with a new bus car," says Marshall, "one which costs approximately $600, you must take in $9.23 a day or subtract the difference from your wages, $100 a month. This is little enough for driving a jitney 150 miles a day. If your car is second hand, or cost more than $600 when new, or is heavier than a $400 car, you must, of course, estimate higher daily cost figures."

Mr. Voter, Are We Consistent?

We maintain, as one of our chief assets of our city, our public schools which cost us by local taxation for the last fiscal year over $40,000 or $56,000 including state aid. We maintain a library at a cost of about $1,200 and we maintain our churches at an appropriate cost of $40,000. While each of these institutions have various functions, there is one lesson to the young life paramount in the teaching of the schools, in the best literature and from the pulpit of each church. Our schools particularly emphasize it at the time our graduates leave our schools by securing the best speakers they can obtain and who invariably dwell upon this theme. That central theme is that as they go out into the world to invest their lives they should not accept a dollar as gain which comes as a compromise with wrong no matter how expedient it may be. It is a splendid ideal worthy of the institutions of which we are so proud.

We Apply it to Our Civic Life

Each of these institutions teach in effect that the citizens of a city had better dispense with street lights and carry lanterns; had better walk in sand than on paved streets and walks; had better rely upon old fashioned hand fire apparatus than upon an auto truck; had better have vacant lots than parks; that the council had better meet in a barn than in an elegant city hall, in fact, the teaching is plain that any compromise with wrong or any compromise for the benefit of the public purse which would work evil to "brother man" is indefensibly wrong.

Now as to Our Inconsistency

The product of these institutions goes into active business life and inquires as to the city's revenues. He finds that the city has learned that it cannot afford to accept the revenue which came into its coffers through the legalizing of the prostitution of women. He wonders why it was that within the last decade they should accept it.

He learns that the city receives $21,000 gross or about $16,000 net from the licensing of a business which causes one-half of our poverty; that causes 75 per cent of our arrests; that wrecks our homes; that it is responsible for most crime; that diminishes the usefulness of men and that tears down manhood generally. And he finds that the large majority of citizens condemn the business but state that it is expedient that we accept the revenue.

Which is Right?

Shall we, Mr. Voter, lower the ideals of our schools; of our best literature and of our churches or shall we be consistent with the high ideals we hold before our young life and eliminate our inconsistency—namely—The Licensed Saloon?

Mr. Voter, Are We Consistent?

We maintain, as one of our chief assets of our city, our public schools which cost us by local taxation for the last fiscal year over $40,000 or $56,000 including state aid. We maintain a library at a cost of about $1,200 and we maintain our churches at an appropriate cost of $40,000. While each of these institutions have various functions, there is one lesson to the young life paramount in the teaching of the schools, in the best literature and from the pulpit of each church. Our schools particularly emphasize it at the time our graduates leave our schools by securing the best speakers they can obtain and who invariably dwell upon this theme. That central theme is that as they go out into the world to invest their lives they should not accept a dollar as gain which comes as a compromise with wrong no matter how expedient it may be. It is a splendid ideal worthy of the institutions of which we are so proud.

We Apply it to Our Civic Life

Each of these institutions teach in effect that the citizens of a city had better dispense with street lights and carry lanterns; had better walk in sand than on paved streets and walks; had better rely upon old fashioned hand fire apparatus than upon an auto truck; had better have vacant lots than parks; that the council had better meet in a barn than in an elegant city hall, in fact, the teaching is plain that any compromise with wrong or any compromise for the benefit of the public purse which would work evil to "brother man" is indefensibly wrong.

Now as to Our Inconsistency

The product of these institutions goes into active business life and inquires as to the city's revenues. He finds that the city has learned that it cannot afford to accept the revenue which came into its coffers through the legalizing of the prostitution of women. He wonders why it was that within the last decade they should accept it.

He learns that the city receives $21,000 gross or about $16,000 net from the licensing of a business which causes one-half of our poverty; that causes 75 per cent of our arrests; that wrecks our homes; that it is responsible for most crime; that diminishes the usefulness of men and that tears down manhood generally. And he finds that the large majority of citizens condemn the business but state that it is expedient that we accept the revenue.

Which is Right?

Shall we, Mr. Voter, lower the ideals of our schools; of our best literature and of our churches or shall we be consistent with the high ideals we hold before our young life and eliminate our inconsistency—namely—The Licensed Saloon?

John R. Harrington and Associates of St. Paul and Hibbing Ship Drill to Brainerd

WORK IS TO COMMENCE SOON

Believed Harrington will First Explore the Tract Northeast of the N. P. Shops

Excitement was intense in Brainerd yesterday afternoon when a complete drill outfit, considered one of the best on the Cuyuna range, arrived in the city.

The outfit belonged to John R. Harrington and associates of Hibbing and St. Paul, who have taken the option to drill and explore for iron the lands which Judge G. W. Holland bequeathed to the city.

Mr. Holland stated at different times that he believed there was iron on the land and made such reference to the property in his will. Brainerd citizens hope this is the case and that enough ore will be found to establish a mine and the payment of royalties resulting therefrom will prove to be the means of causing a great reduction in local taxes.

Judge Holland, in conversation before his death, said little about his plans for benefiting Brainerd, but it was remarked that after his death he would be known as one of the best boosters of Brainerd.

The fact that ore in paying quantities has been found on the south side of Brainerd two miles distant from the Holland tract leads many to believe that the tract near the foundry and shops will prove a continuation of the ore belt now located.

CONTINGENT FUND OPINION

Assistant Attorney General Stevenson Replies to Queries of County Auditor Mahlum

REGARDING PAYMENT CLAIMS

No Discretion to Refuse Paying Warrant When Countersigned by District Judge

C. W. Mahlum, county auditor, has received an opinion from William J. Stevenson, assistant attorney general, covering the subject of paying claims from the county attorney's contingent fund, a question brought up during the incumbency of former County Attorney G. S. Swanson tending to substantiate the stand taken by that official.

The questions of Mr. Mahlum are: "Can a county attorney in any case be compelled to reimburse the county for sums of money expended out of the contingent fund, after the same has actually been expended and paid by warrants countersigned by a judge of the district court?"

"Has not the county attorney authority to hire and employ detective service in the investigation of crime and preparing for trial of cases and other business connected with his office, providing he does not overstep the amount of the contingent fund allowed by the county board?"

"Can we go beyond the signature of a judge of the district court, and can the same be questioned at all after the judge has countersigned the warrants which is one of the safeguards provided in the handling of this fund? It is all expended under the direction of the judge of the district, for if he did not approve the same, it would not be paid."

The opinion from the attorney general's office in answer to the above reads:

"In your (C. W. Mahlum) letter of the 17th instant you ask concerning your duty with respect to the recognizing and paying of claims from the county attorney's contingent fund upon warrants which are countersigned by a judge of the district court."

It has long been the understanding of this office that the district judge necessarily passes upon the validity of any claim when he countersigns such warrants; and neither this office nor the public examiner ever considers that disbursements so made through the office of the county auditor and the county treasurer can in any way be open to criticism or review. While such action of the judge in so countersigning is not the equivalent of an adjudication by a court, his authority is at least quasi judicial and his approval is equivalent to deciding that the claim is one that can properly be paid from such contingent fund and the amount thereof is reasonable.

Our conclusion must therefore be that the county auditor has no discretion to refuse to honor a warrant so signed which is fair on its face, nor can the county treasurer refuse to pay the claim provided the contingent fund previously set aside by the county board is not exhausted.

Your attention is called to the last paragraph of opinion No. 117 of the attorney general's opinions for 1912, which is in harmony with this conclusion. In that opinion it was held that a county attorney has no authority to hire detectives to investigate crimes that have been committed and to determine the identity and whereabouts of the offenders, where his contingent fund was exhausted and he sought to pledge the credit of the county therefor. There would have been no doubt of his right to use his contingent fund for that purpose if the investigation was in connection with the preparing and trying of criminal cases or the conducting of investigations by the grand jury.

Referring to the book of opinions, the concluding paragraphs of No. 117 state: "The providing of this fund (contingent fund) adds no substantial power to the county attorney and imposes no additional duty. The language of this law creating the contingent fund is broad enough to allow the incurring and the paying of bills which the county attorney under said section 365 would not be authorized to contract. In thus widening the latitude of such opportunity and authority to contract debts against the county, the county attorney is necessarily limited to the amount of the fund which the county board may so appropriate for his use."

"The authority is as great as the fund and no greater. While the county must assume the financial burden and responsibility of apprehending offenders and prosecuting for crimes committed within its borders, the legislature does not seem to have contemplated that the county attorney should have even the implied power to pledge the credit of the county in excess of the contingent

An important and interesting "Get Together" meeting was held last night in the social rooms of the Methodist Episcopal church. Over one hundred members sat down to supper at 7 o'clock, and did ample justice to the excellent meal prepared by the ladies, the young ladies doing the serving, assisted by several young men in the kitchen.

Olaf Skauge was the toastmaster of the occasion, and his wit and wisdom was excellent spice to the toasts that were responded to. The pastor, Mr. Michael, as superintendent of the Bible school, Dr. E. E. Long, as president of the Epworth League, Mrs. Wm. Ragan, for the Ladies Aid, reported the work and sketches the plans of these organizations. T. E. Nitteraure urged a greater effort financially, and a number of members present promised increased financial support.

Miss Mildred Skauge, assisted by a Victoria from the H. F. Michael Co., furnished the music. The atmosphere of good cheer and brotherliness was stimulating and inspiring, and the people of the church hope that these meetings may not be too far apart.

CHAPTER XXVII.

Wilkerson Again on the Trail.
It had not been difficult for Harry Wilkerson and Mrs. Darnell to trace Faversham and his party from the time they landed to their arrival in Bhala. But the idol itself, the object of their quest, still concealed its whereabouts in spite of the most minute inquiries. "We'll simply have to watch Dor," Wilkerson said at last. "We know he is on the trail, and we'll just follow him. Sooner or later we'll catch him." Jean Darnell sullenly agreed, but privately confided to Drake that she thought Wilkerson had lost his nerve. The climate did not suit her, nor the food, nor the primitive modes of travel, and her temper grew worse and worse. Drake promised to do some investigating on his own hook. He was once more completely under the woman's domination, and he dreamed of finding the precious papers himself and so put-

Jean Darnell Sullenly Agreed.

That Saturday Night Line of Men at the Express Office

THERE'S a strong story in that, Williams—a story of what prohibition is doing for your town. Those men are spending a lot of money because you've tried to deprive them of their honest right to drink beer. That money's going to dealers just twenty miles from your town—not a cent of it ever comes back. It's a sure thing, too, that the express companies don't spend those heavy shipping receipts in your city.

It's the old story of prohibition, Williams. Close the respectable, well-conducted beer saloon and seek by legislation to rob men of their liberty, and you have a problem that never works out in favor of a town. You don't keep men from drinking. Refuse to sell them beer, which heretofore they have drunk moderately because they know it's the drink of True Temperance and beneficial and stimulating, and the stronger drink line boys up. You send thousands of dollars out of the town that ought to be spent right there, and you encourage drunkenness and law-breaking.

Your town will wake up some day, Williams, like many another town that has been disillusioned.

ing Wilkerson out of the running. Strangely enough, the man, weakly vicious as he was, was possessed by an honest and whole souled love for Jean.

She knew this, and at times her tawny eyes rested on him with unmistakable affection, but she knew perfectly well that she would choose Wilkerson provided he made good by gaining the master key and uncovering the wealth of the great mother lode.

It was Drake who brought the news of the riot in the temple and the outcome of Dor's attempt to steal the idol.

"He was disguised and thought he could get away with it," he went on. "But the priests were too quick for him."

Wilkerson's shifty eyes narrowed. "I'll get that idol!" he boasted. "I forgot to tell you that the idol isn't there any longer," Drake continued. "From what I could learn the temple wasn't considered a safe place for it, and it's disappeared."

"Where to?" demanded Wilkerson. "That I couldn't find out. It was rather risky asking too much anyway,"

"The idol isn't there any longer," Drake continued.

but a white man who lives with the natives hinted that they had taken it up the river into the hills. With this slight clue both Drake and Wilkerson toiled unweariedly until they had established the fact that the idol had indeed been sent into another part of the country for safe keeping.

HOUSE KILLS DRY MEASURE

Votes Down Statewide Prohibition for Minnesota.

St. Paul, March 26.—When the house voted to adopt the majority report of the temperance committee recommending indefinite postponement of the Larimore-Davis resolution submitting to the people at the 1916 election a constitutional amendment prohibiting the sale of liquor in Minnesota it ended all hope of temperance advocates for additional legislation at this session.

The resolution was the one which which was sprung so suddenly in the house soon after the county option bill was passed.

The vote for indefinite postponement was 60, of which 14 voted for county option.

In the senate temperance committee statewide prohibition received another body blow when the Gandrud resolution, similar to the Larimore-Davis resolution, was recommended for indefinite postponement.

Swedie Erickson was in town on Monday. He was quite pleased to see that his picture with that of Rich Bush and Sig Sheffo appeared in the Minneapolis Tribune. The three were dubbed the $100,000 outfield. Erickson played with Charles Bush when the latter was on second base. He played with Ed Bush when the latter held down third base for the North Star Juniors. He played with Leslie Bush, when the hero of the Athletics was an outfielder and later pitcher. He played with Rich Bush in the $100,000 outfield, Swedie being in left field, Rich Bush in right field and Sheffo in center. Having played with the entire Bush family except the baby, Leonard, Swedie says he will stick to baseball a few years more so as to be able to boast that he has played with every Bush.

CHAPTER XXVI.

Wilkerson Again on the Trail.
It had not been difficult for Harry Wilkerson and Mrs. Darnell to trace Faversham and his party from the time they landed to their arrival in Bhala. But the idol itself, the object of their quest, still concealed its whereabouts in spite of the most minute inquiries. "We'll simply have to watch Dor," Wilkerson said at last. "We know he is on the trail, and we'll just follow him. Sooner or later we'll catch him." Jean Darnell sullenly agreed, but privately confided to Drake that she thought Wilkerson had lost his nerve. The climate did not suit her, nor the food, nor the primitive modes of travel, and her temper grew worse and worse. Drake promised to do some investigating on his own hook. He was once more completely under the woman's domination, and he dreamed of finding the precious papers himself and so put-

That Saturday Night Line of Men at the Express Office

THERE'S a strong story in that, Williams—a story of what prohibition is doing for your town. Those men are spending a lot of money because you've tried to deprive them of their honest right to drink beer. That money's going to dealers just twenty miles from your town—not a cent of it ever comes back. It's a sure thing, too, that the express companies don't spend those heavy shipping receipts in your city.

It's the old story of prohibition, Williams. Close the respectable, well-conducted beer saloon and seek by legislation to rob men of their liberty, and you have a problem that never works out in favor of a town. You don't keep men from drinking. Refuse to sell them beer, which heretofore they have drunk moderately because they know it's the drink of True Temperance and beneficial and stimulating, and the stronger drink line boys up. You send thousands of dollars out of the town that ought to be spent right there, and you encourage drunkenness and law-breaking.

Your town will wake up some day, Williams, like many another town that has been disillusioned.

ing Wilkerson out of the running. Strangely enough, the man, weakly vicious as he was, was possessed by an honest and whole souled love for Jean.

She knew this, and at times her fawny eyes rested on him with unmistakable affection, but she knew perfectly well that she would choose Wilkerson provided he made good by gaining the master key and uncovering the wealth of the great mother lode.

It was Drake who brought the news of the riot in the temple and the outcome of Dor's attempt to steal the idol.

"He was disguised and thought he could get away with it," he went on. "But the priests were too quick for him."

Wilkerson's shifty eyes narrowed. "I'll get that idol!" he boasted.

"I forgot to tell you that the idol isn't there any longer," Drake continued. "From what I could learn the temple wasn't considered a safe place for it, and it's disappeared."

"Where to?" demanded Wilkerson.

"That I couldn't find out. It was rather risky asking too much anyway,"

"The idol isn't there any longer," Drake continued.

but a white man who lives with the natives hinted that they had taken it up the river into the hills."

With this slight clue both Drake and Wilkerson toiled unweariedly until they had established the fact that the idol had indeed been sent into another part of the country for safe keeping.

DID CHILD WAKE UP CROSS OR FEVERISH?

Look, Mother! If tongue is coated give "California Syrup of Figs" to clean the bowels Mother! Your child isn't naturally cross and peevish. See if tongue is coated; this is a sure sign its little stomach, liver and bowels need a cleansing at once.

When listless, pale, feverish, full of cold, breath bad, throat sore, doesn't eat, sleep or act naturally, has stomach-ache, diarrhea, remember, a gentle liver and bowel cleansing should always be the first treatment given.

Nothing equals "California Syrup of Figs" for children's ills; give a teaspoonful and in a few hours all the foul waste, sour bile and fermenting food which is clogged in the bowels passes out of the system, and you have a well and playful child again. All children love this harmless, delicious "fruit laxative," and it never fails to effect a good "inside" cleansing. Directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups are plainly on the bottle.

Keep it handy in your home. A little given today saves a sick child tomorrow, but get the genuine. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs" then look and see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company."—Advt

Votes Down Statewide Prohibition for Minnesota.

St. Paul, March 26.—When the house voted to adopt the majority report of the temperance committee recommending indefinite postponement of the Larimore-Davis resolution submitting to the people at the 1918 election a constitutional amendment prohibiting the sale of liquor in Minnesota it ended all hope of temperance advocates for additional legislation at this session.

The resolution was the one which which was sprung so suddenly in the house soon after the county option bill was passed.

The vote for indefinite postponement was 60, of which 14 voted for county option.

In the senate temperance committee statewide prohibition received another body blow when the Gandrud resolution, similar to the Larimore-Davis resolution, was recommended for indefinite postponement.

BASEBALL CURVES

Swedie Erickson was in town on Monday. He was quite pleased to see that his picture with that of Rich Bush and Sig Shefflo appeared in the Minneapolis Tribune. The three were dubbed the $100,000 outfield. Erickson played with Charles Bush when the latter was on second base. He played with Ed Bush when the latter held down third base for the North Star Juniors. He played with Leslie Bush, when the hero of the Athletics was an outfielder and later pitcher. He played with Rich Bush in the $100,000 outfield, Swedie being in left field, Rich Bush in right field and Shefflo in center. Having played with the entire Bush family except the baby, Leonard, Swedie says he will stick to baseball a few years more so as to be able to boast that he has played with every Bush.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.
